

Through The Tunnel

You're on the other side, dear,
Through darkness into light,
Your illness now is over,
Gone, your body's plight.

Still, we would advise, dear,
To continue on with rest,
No need to jump into the fray,
Go slowly, dear, it's best.

In quiet, in reflection,
When so difficult, each breath,
You thought that life could end there,
Might be your time for death.

But, dear one, I will tell you,
Your time on earth's not through,
Together, we have more to give,
To help others find what's true.

Increased now, your intention,
To share, to love, to give,
To use your time most fruitfully,
Joined with Me, to live,

To live from your Transcendence,
To be God's point of light,
Right there's where you are needed,
To help heal blinded sight.

The tunnel and its darkness,
Were not too much to bear,
I was there right with you,
Surrounding you with care.

I feel your gratitude, dear,
It's like a brand new start,
Refreshed, renewed, recovered,
Joy now fills your heart!

Love in all its power,
Your health, it did renew,
God's meaning there made manifest,
The tunnel, now is through!

Lastly, let Me share again,
This truth that you have known,
I am with you always,
You are not alone!
