

Reconciliation

To reconcile is to reunite,
Join what's been apart,
Close the separation,
Begin a fresh new start.

You chose for separation,
You left the Mind of Source,
Now alone, life threatened,
Fear reigned with your divorce.

Your mind built up protection,
A mind of false pretense,
This mind of separation,
Built solely for defense.

This separated mindset,
This ego point of view,
Claims its full authority,
Claims its really you,

My reconciliation plan, there,
My intent for what is true,
Brings you back to Wholeness,
Transcendent Mind imbue.

The plan involves undoing,
The defenses held within,
Revealing who you are, there,
Just who you've always been.

You are God's Holy Child, dear,
God's love in you instilled,
Your mind, with His, connected,
One movement of His will.

Love's the reconciler,
What's severed, 'twill renew,
It heals, redeems, transforms, dear,
Brings truth back home to you.

Reconcile your brother,
As I have reconciled you,
Let's move as One together.
God's will, through love, comes true.