

The Glow of Happiness

Happiness is the outcome,
Of living life with Me,
Radiant joy surrounds us,
We're filled with ecstasy.

Love's light leads ever onward,
Each day is felt brand new,
Our work becomes a pleasure,
With joy, each task, we do.

Fear no longer haunts you,
Your ego mind dismiss,
Relishing our togetherness,
Is where we find our bliss.

Love's light shines ever brightly,
Doubts shadows fade away,
The splendor of each moment,
Fills each rapturous day.

Life's harshness disappears there,
Complexity, confusion gone,
And there in plain simplicity,
We hear love's calling song.

No longer stiff nor stifled,
Not held in fear's deep freeze.
The warmth of our togetherness,
Feels like a gentle breeze.

The glow of love now shines dear,
I see it there in you.
So let's get going now, dear,
Time this poem is through.

Those who read these verses,
I'll bring happiness, joy to you,
I'm waiting for your calling,
Right now, I'm here, it's true.

There's no time like the present,
To quiet thinking mind,
I am with you always.
True love with Me you'll find.
