

This Day We Have Together

We've traveled down the highways,
And byways of your life,
We've seen the peaks and valleys,
Felt happiness and strife.

The journey's still not over,
Though coming soon to close,
There's still a lot to live there,
Before your last repose.

You've listened to My guidance,
And often turned to Me,
You've found what gives you meaning,
It's love that is the key.

You know you're not alone there,
I'm here, with others, too,
Who love you and support you,
In bringing mission through.

Each step leads to another,
Until we reach that place,
Where fulfillment fills your heart, dear,
Then home, we'll go, in grace.

You've given books and poems, each day,
And messages, came through,
They're there as simple witness,
To My Presence there with you.

Know that I am with you,
Intertwined as One are we,
You'll never be alone dear,
Through all eternity.

This day we have together,
So close, in love, are we,
Let's rapture in each other,
Pure joy, sweet harmony!
