

Each Day's an Opportunity

Each day's an opportunity,
To give, to share, to love,
To open to God's goodness,
Reap benefits thereof.

The kindness that is given,
The seeds of love well sown,
You'll reap the harvest, also,
Love's fruits, they will have grown.

The fruits of love have purpose,
Are meant for all to share,
None given in isolation,
As One, we'll gather, there.

What's done for one another,
When viewed from up above,
Ripples to all others,
The Oneness of God's love.

So take this opportunity,
That's given to you this day,
Know that the love you give there,
Blesses All God's way.

A verse or two I give you,
The scribe has much to do,
Her family is coming,
There's work for her to do.

We'll be there with these loved ones,
Right there, we will be found,
Blessing those we know so well,
Joy, it will abound.

Know that I love you dearly,
I know just who you are,
You're my own beloved,
You're God's shining star.

5/1/21. Sharing is encouraged, but please acknowledge the website. Thanks.