

My Promise Given

I made a sacred promise,
That I would be with you,
I have kept that promise,
To this, I have been true.

You need Me there to guide you,
It's impossible alone,
For only in our joining,
Can truth be fully known.

Truth requires joining,
With your Transcendancy,
Here's your origination,
Your real identity.

You're intrinsic to the Wholeness,
I'll help to clear the way,
To waken you to Oneness,
Such joy, for All, that day!

I write this poem to urge you,
To take Me seriously,
Join in peace with Me, dear,
Find sacred sanity.

God moves through His creation,
And fills it with His love,
His energy of meaning,
For All to partake of.

To heal, redeem, transform, dear,
Love constantly renews,
Its benefit for All there,
Come within and choose.

Choose to join with Me, dear,
No longer all alone,
You've found that Friend who loves you.
The best you've ever known.

A sacred promise given,
It was made for you,
You are God's point of light, dear,
Let love and light shine through!

In closing, let Me tell you,
My love for you, is deep,
I will never leave you,
This promise I will keep.
