

When Problems Arise

A problem has arisen,
Could cause a set back there,
A costly fix is needed,
A 'must fix it' repair.

You turn to Me for guidance,
And I tell you I'm there,
Not to get upset, alarmed,
No need to feel despair.

Problems will arise there,
It's how you face them, dear,
I'm with you and I'll guide you,
Next steps, I'll make so clear.

Let's trust that what has happened,
No way reflects on you,
You're not being given payback,
For negligence come due.

I'm here to gird you up there,
To offer the transcendent view,
Letting you know you're not alone,
I'm here, entwined with you.

Living love's the answer,
To heal, repair, renew,
God's power of transformation,
Knows just what to do.

Hold my hand each day, dear,
I'm with you through it all,
We'll look back in a day or so,
This problem will seem small.

Don't assume the future,
Will be bleak and bare,,
For it will be love-filled,
Radiant joy we'll share.

The problem will be solved, dear,
Soon back to normalcy,
Sharing life together,
In sacred harmony.

In closing I will tell you,
The truth of which you've known,
I am with you always,
You are not alone.
