

For You to Claim

Claim the truth of who you are,
Let the ambiguous go,
For who you are is not complex,
It's meant for you to know.

This simple truth is who you are,
God's point of light right there,
God's light and love sent forth to give,
His meaning, everywhere.

You are God's meaning manifest,
His Love pours forth through you,
On all that you're involved with,
Making all things new.

Renewal, healing, making right,
Your Mind opened to God's will,
Shall send forth what God has for All,
Their birthright to instill.

A heritage of Oneness,
With God Himself as All,
Included in His meaning,
And now it's you I call,

To claim your rightful truth there,
To Know that you belong,
Forever One with All That Is,
And filled with Love's sweet song.

Claim it, name it, as your own,
Sing forth in harmony,
You're One with God's Creation,
Forever, you will be!

I end this poem with one more thing,
A promise you have known,
I am with always,
You are not alone.

7/26/2020

Feel free to share, but please acknowledge the website.

