

I'm Listening Lord

I'm listening, Lord, to what you say,
For truth is what you bring,
To a world held captive by a lie,
By fear, the ego's sling.

You tell us that we need not fear,
Nor live as though alone,
That we should go forth trusting,
That all our needs are known.

The need for Love to enter,
To heal and make All Whole,
The need for one another,
For we are One Great Soul.

One Heart, One Body, and One Mind,
Our Source moves as this One,
God's Meaning felt throughout the Whole,
Radiant, like the sun.

Living Love's the meaning,
Renewal is its goal,
Awakening All to Oneness,
Healing, making Whole.

I'm listening, Lord, to what you say,
Your truth is what I hear,
Your Peace and joy now fill me up,
Replacing ego's fear.

Let us join as One together,
In Heart, and Soul, and Mind,
I am right there within you,
Turn here and you will find,

One who loves you dearly.
One who's always near,
One who guides you forward,
And makes it deeply clear,

That you are not alone, dear,
For that could never be,
You are connected ever more.
Intertwined inextricably.

Thank you, Lord, for the truth you give,
For your Presence here with me,
I claim my Oneness with our Source,
The All, as family.

3/20 2020

A Ship at Sea

Are you like a ship at sea,
With wind and sun and sky,
As overhead the seagulls sing,

And dolphins swim nearby?

No matter how delightful,
You think this life might be,
A ship out on the ocean,
Needs a destiny.

A ship without a harbor,
Without a landing place,
Becomes a watery prison,
A lost and lonely space.

Life needs a solid mooring,
A landing place secure,
A solid firm foundation,
And that is why I'm here.

I am that solid mooring,
I am your refuge there,
That solid firm foundation,
So that you can bear,

The storms that life might give you,
The ego's subtle blows,
The dips and turns, the ins and outs.
The high points and the lows,

I am the light that leads you,
And love will light our way,
I am the mighty fortress,
Your haven for each day.

So if you wander lonely,
And feel as tossed around,
I'm right within to guide you,
To firm and loving ground.

I am your harbor and your light
No longer lost at sea,
We're moored together, always
As One, eternally.

Lastly, let Me say, dear,
Words which you have known,
"I love you deeply always,
"You are not alone."

5/4/2020

'Til Awakening's Done

We are in it together, you and I,
We are joined as all One, it is true,
We sing the same song,
Right that which is wrong,
Bring love into all that we do.

Others will play their inherent part,
Intertwined inextricably too,
Each carries their part,
Right there in each heart,
Intrinsic to what will ensue.

You are the Whole, the Whole is in you,
As all One, we live what is true,
We know deep within,
A place without sin,
Where life unfolds ever anew.

Miracles will happen, in Mind they occur,
The power of love is right there,
So open love's door,
To all that's in store,
And find Me, waiting to share,

Deep love, and joy, and perfect peace
And how to move forward is here,
Held perfect and free,
As siblings are we,
One Heart, filled with love and good cheer.

This poem has a purpose, a mission to give,
A call to see others as One,
I'll show you the way,
And help you this day,
And forever, 'til awakening's done.

