

The Governance of Love

How will your life be governed,
Who holds the power there,
Who rules your inner being,
And what is brought to bear,

On making those decisions,
The large ones and the small,
That impact you and others—
Gives answers to your call.

We know we cherish freedom,
We have the right to choose,
It's our privilege and duty,
Free will—our gift to use.

The choice is very simple,
There 's only one of two,
To join your Mind with Source, there,
Or let ego rough-ride you.

Ego is a liar,
It says it's really you,
It feeds on fear and falsehoods—
Belittles what is true.

Your Mind, joined with your Maker,
Brings living love to bear,
On all your life encounters,
Its governance will share,

The power of renewal,
The mighty rule of One,
Where every son or daughter,
Is blessed by what is done.

The choice in how you're governed,
What you let lead the way,
Will save you or destroy you,
So loudly I will say,

Turn within to Me, dear,
Let's join in Mind as One,
Let living love, God's meaning,
Rule how the race is won.

Victory is ensured, dear,
Triumphant we will be,
Illusion will be gone, there,
Love in All, we'll see.

In closing, as you read this,
I'm right here now, it's true,
Feel My love out-pouring,
I'm waiting just for you.
